Girl-bride of millionaire love cult head sues for divorce when husband requests her to give up studio posing. Mrs. Mazie Ryerson (here shown posing in the Chalet D'Art Studio in Detroit,) says that husband, Albert W. Ryerson (in oval,) 51-year-old head of the Order of the Temple of the Orient, wouldn't let her work as a model, wanted her to join the temple, and was rough. She also tells of a thirty-day trial marriage that only lasted twenty-nine days.
