

THE DAILY EXPRESS
6 DECEMBER 1947

'Black Magic' Farewell

Aleister Crowley, black magician calling himself "the wickedest man in the world," was cremated at Brighton yesterday.

Twenty people, including smartly dressed women, stood by as a friend read from Crowley's own "Hymn to Pan" and "Collects from the Gnostic Mass," ending: "There is no law beyond do what thou wilt."

A woman laid carnations on the coffin as it moved to the furnace..