About thirty-five pages of the text present serious irregularities in composition, mainly having to do with left margin squaring. Chief offenders in this respect are pages 63, 131, 151, 184, 185, 187, 191, 195, 197, 203, 207, 208. The Neophyte responsible for printing has accordingly been punished for his dereliction from duty; but — alas! — too late in what concerns this preliminary edition of LIBER ALEPH.
