

TRUTH
LONDON, ENGLAND
28 SEPTEMBER 1905
(page 798)

TOPICAL VERSIONS OF WELL-KNOWN NURSERY RHYMES.

Alick Crowley went up the hill,
Known as Kinchinjunga,
If he falls down and breaks his crown,
It will not be a wonder.

Petite.

. There have been two or three articles in the Daily Mail lately with Mr. Crowley's account of his preparations for this great climb, he is always known among his friends and relations as Alick.