

THE EDINBURGH EVENING NEWS
EDINBURGH, MIDLOTHIAN, SCOTLAND
28 OCTOBER 1910
(page 4)

STRANGE RITES IN LONDON

A body of occultists, including a well-known poet, who has traveled all over the world, and is steeped in ancient and modern spiritual lore, are reproducing in London the ancient rite of Eleusis in modern form, illustrating its fate, both good and evil. One of the series—the rite of Jupiter—took place on Wednesday night at Caxton Hall, London. Jupiter appears in the form of Dionysius, the god-man.