

MUSICAL COURIER
26 NOVEMBER 1913

Art in America

In the English Review a writer named Aleister Crowley expatiates on the subject of "Art in America." Among other things Mr. Crowley say: "When a class arises which has time to reflect upon life instead of living it American art will lead the world."