

THE NEW WITNESS
LONDON, ENGLAND
1 DECEMBER 1922
(pages 339-340)

COMMENTS OF THE WEEK.

"Dope" of a different though equally nauseous mixture was to be found in the last issue of the Sunday Express. The readers of Lord Beaverbrook's organ were provided with an opportunity of reading an article on Aleister Crowley, which was written, we were told, with the intention of securing the suppression of his latest book, and also of reading another article which was printed in this paper . . .