

THE INDIANAPOLIS STAR
INDIANAPOLIS, INDIANA
30 MARCH 1923

Aleister Crowley Branded
Women in his Love Cult

Beast or Poet? ? ? ? ?
Genius or Mad Magician?

Magic symbols were marked with the point of a heated dagger on the chest of Lea, "The Dead Soul."

—These are the questions Europe has been asking for more than ten years about the head of the Devil Worshippers, the most complex character in the modern world and one of the most extraordinary in human history. New intimate details are revealed of his power over women, whom he marked and enslaved; his unholy rites, drug orgies, his poetry and mysticism, his startling adventures around the globe as "the Beast of the Apocalypse."

One of the most amazing stories you've seen in the Magazine Section.

Watch for it in The

Sunday Star

ALWAYS FIRST—ALWAYS FAIR—ALWAYS COMPLETE

Aleister Crowley Branded Women

IN 1928

LOVE CULT

Beast

OR

Poet

OR

Genius

OR

Mad Magician?

These symbols were marked with the point of a heated dagger on the chest of 1928, "The Beast Year."

—These are the questions Europe has been asking for more than ten years about the head of the Devil Worshipers, the most complex character in the modern world and one of the most extraordinary in human history. Now intimate details are revealed of his power over women, whom he marked and enslaved; his unholy rites, drug orgies, his poetry and mysticism, his startling adventures around the globe as "the Beast of the Apocalypse."

One of the most amazing stories you've seen in the Magazine Section.

Watch for it in The

Sunday Star

ALWAYS FIRST—ALWAYS FREE—ALWAYS COMPLETE.