BEASTS, MEN AND GODS

FICTION

Pilgrim's Rest
By BRETT YOUNG
The London Spectator says:
"In one way it is an exciting as Steynson's Treasure Island
and in another as Rescue of the Yonkers in His Face. $2.00

The House of the Secret
By CLAUDE FARRÈRE
Translated by Arthur Livingston
"The wildest, mystery story of the season."—Boston Herald. New ed. in press. $2.00

Valley Waters
By CHARLES D. STEWART
"A well-constructed, well-written and altogether distinctly popular story."—
William Lown Phlegm. $2.00

The Driver
By GARET GARRETT
One of the finest and most of great achievement ever published. $2.00

Baroque A Mystery
By LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE
An exciting tale of love, crime and revenge interwoven with "Cannibal" plotting. $2.00

Thrifty Stock
By BEN AMES WILLIAMS
Author of "Ewend," "Black Fork," etc.
Short stories of unusual strength and power, good to read aloud. $2.00

Octavia
By SEYMOUR VEB
SANTVOORD
"A tale of ancient Rome; the dramatic story of a white-unmuzzled soul in a tragic setting which has no parallel in history." $2.00

The Lunatic at Large Again
By J. STOKER CLOUSTON
"In a vein similar to 'The Comic and Tragic' now being over by the British firm. $2.00

Pirate Princes and Yankee Jacks
By DANIEL HENDERSON
A romance of the American navy in its glory on the Barbary Coast. $2.00

For Children
Farmtown Tales
By MARY WOLFE
THOMPSON
Delightfully natural and entertaining stories for children.
Just ready. $2.00

FERDINAND OSSENDOWSKI'S
"graphic, dramatic, absorbingly interesting book."—New York Times. $3.00, postage extra

The Manuscript of Youth

By DIANA PATRICK
Shows the increasing strength and power of the author of "Dusk of Moonrise," "The Wider Way," "Barbara Justice," etc. The characterization is exceedingly good, and the book is flooded with atmosphere and beauty. $2.00

Strictly Business

By F. MORTON HOWARD Rolling wharfish stories, just the thing to read aloud—if you can read while your audience rocks with laughter. $2.00

Sweet Pepper

By GEOFFREY MOSS
Extremely interesting and significant. It rings with gypsy music; the brilliance of terraced cafés above the Danube glitters in it; and it has the pungent flavor of Hungary itself.
$2.00

The Diary of a Drug Fiend

By ALEISTER CROWLEY
There is a curious poetry and beauty in this novel of the terrible snare of narcotism. The sensation of the book lies in the author's very modern, very appealing ideas as to how one may rid himself of a curse from which no one else can free him.
$2.00

A Yankee with the Soldiers of the King

By ALEXANDER IRVINE
A record of experience as a "morale-raiser" during the war.
Its individual, challenging viewpoint makes it one of the most valuable books of the kind in print. $2.00

THE SOUL OF WOMAN

By GINA LOMBROSO

This book by the daughter of Cesare Lombroso, who is also the wife of the celebrated historian, Ferrero, bids fair to be very widely read as an important contribution to the solution of political, social and economic questions related to "the woman problem." Ready shortly. Probably $2.50

These books are obtainable through any book store, or if not, direct from

NEW BOOKS

Prisoners of the Red Desert
By CAPT. GWATKIN
WILLIAMS
A splendid record of endurance and an exciting story of the fight for the removal of the Turks by an armored car detachment crossing the desert.
$2.50

Sunwise Turn
By MADGE JENISON Intimate, informal, full of the delightfully human contacts she has made through the book shop she humorously describes. $2.00

Cheating the Junk Pile
By ETHEL PEPPER
Tells with an irresistible combination of humor and good hard sense, what humankind engagement it took to overcome conditions and how it could be kept in the junk pile. $2.00

Caste and Outcast
By DHAN GOPAL MUKERJI
An account first of the daily life of India, written by one who was part and parcel of it; an account of an Ori-entalist's varied contacts with the West. $2.00

The Policeman
By CORNELIUS P.
CAHALANE
Dublin Chief Inspector, New York Police Department
A book which definitely tells the policeman what he should do and how to do it with the least possible friction. $2.00

What to Eat
In Health and Disease
By BENJAMIN BARROW
Author of "Fascination."
"Glands," etc.
One of those clear and sane books which save your money, time and strength out of all proportion to their cost. $2.00

The Dancer of Shamhka
By ARMEN GHANIAN
Translated by Ross W. Lane
Not only a strangely attractive book but one of solid value as a human document.
—Literary Review. $2.00

Self-Healing by Auto-Suggestion
By A. DOLONNE
