

THE DAILY EXPRESS
LONDON, ENGLAND
19 JULY 1935
(page 7)

THESE NAMES MAKE NEWS

*"Wanted" Guest
Sir Percy Laurie, Assistant
Police Commissioner, met
Charles Peace—in effigy—at Lunch yesterday.*

"Of course, one meets all sorts of people socially nowadays," said Lady Townshend.

She was chairman of yesterday's Literary Luncheon. On her right, in lifelike effigy, sat murderer Charles Peace.

On her left sat crossword-setter E. Powys Mathers, who, as "Torquemada," has caused more people more pain than ever Peace did.

On the other side of Peace sat magician Aleister Crowley.