

THE BOOKSELLER
LONDON, ENGLAND
24 JULY 1935
(page 1)

Charlie Peace Presides Over a Crime Club Lunch!

Foyles got Collins as the leading publishers of detective stories to help them organize their fifty-seventh lunch—a “Crime” lunch. Left to right: Aleister Crowley, Charles Peace, Col. Percy Laurie, Assistant Commissioner of Police, and the Marchioness Townshend.